This virtual symposium aims to address the Laotian disparity in higher education and STEM fields. We will be discussing resources and tips for high school students and prospective or current college students of all backgrounds to get established and stay on path in the STEM research and medicine pathway. Additionally, this symposium will be bringing to light issues regarding the model minority myth and affirmative action. We will be having a closing Q&A panel featuring Souvixada Somsacksy (host and undergraduate researcher), Bagieng Keophimphone (medical student), Dr. Zach Thammavongsy PhD (chemist), Dr. Khampa Thephavong, DO, and Lany Sivongsay, NP.
